

CLAIMS

WHAT IS CLAIMED IS:

- 1 1. A combination of a cylindrical container having a volume for storing a plurality of 2 sport balls and a testing device for testing playing condition of one of the sport balls, wherein the 3 container includes means to receive the testing device so as to form a test chamber accommodating
4 only one of the sport balls, and wherein the testing device includes an indicator to provide a visual
5 indication of a force exerted in the axial direction by a partially compressed sport ball.

- 1 2. The device of claim 1 wherein the sport balls are tennis balls.
